

The Carroll Conquest Outstanding Leadership Award

The Carroll Conquest Outstanding Leadership Award has been established by the Behavioral Health Administration and the University of Maryland Training Center, in Carroll's (Chris) honor.

This award recognizes Carroll's dedication to peer support services and his work advocating on behalf of peers in Maryland and nationwide. Carroll's enthusiasm for helping others, his generosity and kind spirit is sorely missed and with this award, we aim to recognize other peer advocates and their contributions to this growing field.

Carroll's many roles and accomplishments included Baltimore Recovery Corps Director for Maryland Community Health Initiatives, Inc. (Penn-North Recovery Center). Carroll served on the Job Tasks Analysis Committee for the International Certification & Reciprocity Consortium (IC&RC), successfully completed the Connecticut Community for Addiction Recovery's (CCAR) Recovery Coach Training, and completed the former Alcohol & Drug Abuse Administration's Recovery Oriented Systems of Care (ROSC) Training of Trainers. In 2006, he cofounded Recovery Empowerment Group, Inc. (REGI), a peer recovery support group and completed the Partners for Recovery and Addiction Technology Transfer Center's six month Recovery Support Services Leadership Program. Carroll participated in the development of "Our Stories Have Power," a recovery messaging media training CD for Faces and Voices of Recovery and was a panelist on SAMHSA's September 2012 "Road to Recovery," a National Recovery Month TV Show, to discuss "Building Communities of Recovery: How Community-Based Partnerships and Recovery Support Organizations Make Recovery Work." Carroll was a State Certified Peer Supervisor and a long-term trainer for the BHA and University of Maryland Training Center (UM TC). In addition, one of Carroll's greatest accomplishments was completing his bachelor's with honors from Strayer University.

Carroll, you are greatly missed!
