

There are so many causes of stress and possible burnout. Some work examples are: bureaucratic red tape, political correctness, lack of support for change, poor communication and a heavy management style. We will discuss frequent on the job stresses, and learn how to manage challenging situations in a calmer manner.